

Ridgeview English sparkling served at Cop26 Global Leaders Reception

World leaders gathered together in Glasgow for Cop26, the two-week conference aiming to drive action by securing emission reductions on a global scale. English sparkling wine producers Ridgeview, who are dedicated to sustainability in wine, were thrilled to have their wines served at such a momentous occasion which was said to be the world's moment of truth on climate change.

Ridgeview's Cavendish blend was served at the opening event. Their prestigious, single-vineyard Ridgeview Blanc de Blancs 2016 was then served at the Global Leaders reception, attended by the Royal Family.

Second-generation Tamara Roberts CEO of Ridgeview, pioneers of English Sparkling wine commented:

"We are delighted that Ridgeview English sparkling wine has been announced as the reception wine for COP26 Summit opening event in Glasgow. Being served at such an important global congregation to welcome world leaders, alongside the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge, is a privilege and a great endorsement of the quality of sparkling wines we produce in England. As a family business with full commitment to sustainable practices in all that we do, we are so pleased to have our wines represented at such a critical United Nations summit on climate change."

Notes to editor:

Ridgeview has led the way in the English sparkling wine revolution, crafting traditional method wines since 1995. Established near the picturesque village of Ditchling in Sussex, this second-generation family business was crowned the globes best in the 'International Wine & Spirit Competition' in 2018 and named No. 36 in the 'Top 50 Worlds' Best Vineyards' in 2019. The family are incredibly proud to have been served at a collection of Royal occasions including to former USA President Barak Obama at Buckingham Palace. Ridgeview's sparkling wines are now exported and enjoyed around the globe. The vineyard is situated in the beautiful South Downs where visitors can drink in our gorgeous view that gives Ridgeview its name and celebrate the family message which is found written in the neck foil of every bottle that; 'Life is for Celebrating'.
